Profile

A passionate Data Scientist with a Master's degree in Applied Data Science, focused on Computer Vision, AI, and Machine Learning. I bring a solid academic foundation complemented by hands-on experience in software engineering, automation, and quality control. With a keen eye for analytics and problem-solving, I am well-versed in Python, Natural Language Processing, and data visualisation tools. I am eager to apply both my technical expertise and collaborative skills in a fast-paced, innovative setting where I can drive impactful solutions.
